Young doctor Manognya has never had clinical contact with a patient and was never alone in the room with a patient. As part of the observer-ship she observed how the following clinical duties are performed.:

While observing the above she took care of sterilization activities in clinic, patient pre- and post-surgery counseling's, release patient anxiety and handle child management in clinic.

During the tenure of working, I found her to be performing her observations well and taking care on public health related activities in the clinic and for patients.
